

Local Educational Agency Liaisons (continued)

- ❑ Liaisons must ensure that unaccompanied youth are immediately enrolled in school pending resolution of disputes that might arise over school enrollment or placement.
- ❑ Liaisons must collaborate and coordinate with State Coordinators for the Education of Homeless Children and Youth and community and school personnel responsible for the provision of education and related services to children and youth in homeless situations.
- ❑ State coordinators and LEAs must inform school personnel, service providers, and advocates who work with families in homeless situations of the duties of the LEA homeless liaison.

(See Endnotes for the text of the law.)

Liaisons are LEA staff responsible for ensuring the identification, school enrollment, attendance, and opportunities for academic success of students in homeless situations. Some of these activities may be accomplished by the liaison himself or herself, while others are accomplished by coordinating the efforts of other staff. National evaluations have found that liaisons are a common denominator for successful district efforts to address homelessness. Therefore, the law now requires every LEA to appoint a liaison for students who are homeless and specifies their legal responsibilities. By linking students and their families to school and community services, liaisons play a critical role in stabilizing students and promoting academic achievement at the individual, school, and district level.

Strategies for implementation

- ❑ LEA administrators should work with the Office of State Coordinator for the Education of Homeless Children and Youth to identify an appropriate staff person to serve as local educational agency homeless liaison. Federal programs, such as Title I, Even Start, or Migrant Education, may be good offices to support this position. State programs for students in high-risk situations may also be appropriate.
- ❑ LEAs and State Coordinators should create opportunities for the designated liaison to receive training, in particular on homelessness, the legal responsibilities of the liaison, and key provisions of the McKinney-Vento Act. Training opportunities may be facilitated by the State Coordinators for the Education of Homeless Children and Youth through attendance at local, state, and national conferences, through neighboring school districts that have established local homeless liaison positions, and through materials such as Local Homeless Education Toolkit (see Resources, last page). Issue briefs on school selection, enrollment, transportation, dispute resolution, identification, and unaccompanied youth will be particularly useful for liaisons.
- ❑ Liaisons should join local homeless task forces, homeless coalitions, and their local homeless assistance Continuum of Care. A

- ❑ State Coordinators should provide the liaison with sample forms, policies, procedures, awareness materials (for example, brochures and posters), and fact sheets so that he or she does not have to “re-invent the wheel” and will be well equipped to start his or her job. Sample materials may be found in the Local Homeless Education Toolkit; Imagine the Possibilities: A Sourcebook for Educators Committed to the Educational Success of Students in Homeless Situations and on the website of the National Center for Homeless Education at www.serve.org/nche.

- ❑ Liaisons should disseminate posters, brochures, and other awareness materials explaining educational rights, programs, and related services in schools and other locations where children and youth receive services (such as soup kitchens, health clinics, shelters, transitional living projects for youth, street outreach teams, youth drop-in centers, motels, campgrounds, public laundries, and faith-based organizations). Posters for parents and for unaccompanied youth may be found on the NCH website at www.serve.org/nche.
- ❑ Liaisons should seek program support from Title I programs, other education programs, and public and private community organizations.
- ❑ LEAs should communicate verbal and written information in a manner and language that parents, guardians, caregivers, and youth can understand.
